AGENDA ITEM 3 CITIZEN INPUT:

3.1a School District Report - Financial Conditions:

Superintendent Patricia Adams said the School District's most recent financial forecast shows additional staffing and budget cuts will be required over the next two years. She said during the last two years the District met $6 million in cuts, and the next two years don't look any better. She said the revenue forecasts for the State of Oregon are very bleak, and the final State revenue forecasts will be released on May 15. In the meantime, she said the School is working with a lot of unknowns while attempting to settle contracts with licensed and classified staff. She said their projections indicate another $2.1 to $2.2 million in cuts, on top of the $6 million they've just made. She said the impacts of further cuts could mean a loss of school days, and will definitely mean a loss of staff, and programs, sports and everything else is on the table for the Budget Committee's review.

Patricia said the School Board has passed a resolution to ask the voters for a $1.6 million operating levy for five years during the May 2011 Primary Election. If approved, she said the levy would reduce the number of additional cuts the District is facing. She said the cost of the levy would be $1.20 per $1,000 assessed value.

3.1b School District Report - Half-Street Improvements:

Nathan Nash, Maintenance Department Lead, said in 1999 the School District entered into an agreement with the City to postpone the construction of 600+ feet of street and sidewalk improvements associated with the expansion of the School for a period of five years. He said the District entered into a second agreement postponing the improvements for an additional five years, and finally received a third extension for another six months.

Nathan said the District has submitted construction drawings for the project, and the City Engineer has reviewed and commented on the plans. He said in an effort to minimize the cost of the improvements, Andrew Neimi, the District's Engineer, has suggested the District ask the City to allow the improvements to be constructed in accordance with the approved 1999 design.

Andrew Neimi of Lower Columbia Engineering said in 1999 the street improvements were designed for the entire block surrounding the Columbia City Elementary School, and although the design was approved at that time, the installation of about 1/2 of the improvements was deferred. He said the City's current Engineer has made some comments about the construction drawings, and most of those comments can be addressed at little cost to the District. However, he said the Engineer's recommendation pertaining to storm drainage would come at quite a cost. He said the original approved design contained distances of 500 to 600 feet between catch basins, which is unusual because the distance exceeds the ideal standard. However, he said adding catch basins and a drainage swale to the project will also add considerable cost, not only for the School District during construction, but for the City through long-term maintenance. He said while the distance between catch basins is not ideal, but it would be in the best interest to stay with the original design. He said the downside of the original design is that during an occasional heavy rain event, the gutter flows will be deeper than ideal.

Patricia said the School District needs to put this project to closure, and they want to move forward with constructing the project at this time.

It was the consensus of the Council that the request be forwarded to the City Engineer.
